Benefiting

Wine on the Water

Wine on the Water is an evening of tasting great wine and wonderful food on the Volunteer Landing waterfront. This 7th year wine and food tasting event to benefit the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation will be held Friday, October 1, 2010 from 6:30-9:30PM. Wine on the Water will be a relaxed, yet lively, evening featuring wineries, Knoxville's best restaurants and live music. The cost is $50 per person for a full taste ticket which covers admission as well as all wine and food tasting.

From wine novices to advanced wine enthusiasts, Wine on the Water is a casual and fun evening for all experience levels! SIP GREAT WINES poured by international and domestic wineries. SAVOR GREAT CUISINE presented at festive tasting stations, where the area's hottest chefs prepare their specialties just for you. Along with delicious food and wine pairings, guests will be treated to lively entertainment.

Demographics

Wine on the Water is hosted by the Knoxville office of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation and presented by local sponsors. The attendance draw is mostly 20, 30, and 40 something young professionals but the event is open and advertised to everyone age 21 and older. Expected attendance is 1,500.

Event Exposure

The event appeals to wine novices and connoisseurs looking for a casual and fun environment to taste wines and local foods, as well as to young professionals looking for an inexpensive night on the town with friends and co-workers.

Wine on the Water is an excellent marketing vehicle for a sponsor targeting a mass, consumer-based audience with buying power. Sponsor involvement builds brand awareness, helps you promote goodwill and public relations, gives you the opportunity to create unique cause-related marketing campaigns, and develops positive community and employee relations, ultimately driving more traffic into your local establishments. In fact, two-thirds of Americans report a greater trust in companies that support social issues and would be likely to switch brands or retailers to one associated with a good cause, when price and quality are equal.

For Sponsors

To say thank you for your support, a Sponsors Only luncheon will be held on Friday, September 24. More information about the luncheon will be provided closer to the date.

The Cystic Fibrosis Foundation

HOW YOUR DOLLARS ARE SPENT

The Cystic Fibrosis Foundation is one of the most efficient voluntary health organizations of its kind. Our efficiency factor (fund-raising and management expense as a percentage of revenue) is a very respectable 8.9 cents on the dollar. This translates into 91.1 cents of every dollar raised being available for investment in CF research, care, and medical programs, education and community services through:

- A network of multidisciplinary research and gene therapy centers at major universities across the United States;
- Research grants for top investigators; fellowships for basic research and clinical research;
- A nationwide network of 117 specialty care centers dedicated to treating CF.

WE NEED YOU!

Every day, approximately three babies are born with CF in this country; and every day at least one person with CF dies. Your help is urgently needed to ensure that the rapid pace of CF research continues. The cost of this research escalates, as sophisticated, new technology must be developed to save precious lives. The Foundation remains the sole catalyst for raising funds to facilitate the scientific process of finding the answers we need. Many of the brightest minds in the world are engaged in this research effort, and the generosity of sponsors and donors has helped to support these efforts and put the cure within our grasp. Your support is more important now than ever before. With your help we can give children and young adults with CF the quality of life and future they deserve.

On average, only 8.9% of the CF Foundation's revenue is spent on fundraising and administrative expenses.

What Is Cystic Fibrosis?

Cystic Fibrosis, or CF as it is commonly called, is a disease caused by an inherited genetic defect. As such it is not contagious and there is no risk of “catching” CF from another person with CF. About 1 in 20 people in the United States carry at least one defective gene, which makes it the most common genetic defect of its severity in the United States.

For many years the causes of cystic fibrosis were a mystery. Today, recent advances in genetics have made the cause more clear. Humans have a gene encoded in their DNA, which manufactures a special protein called CFTR. This protein controls the flow of chloride ions across the cell membrane. Each gene is made up of two alleles; a single correctly encoded allele is adequate for normal CFTR production. Thus it is only when a person has two defective CFTR alleles that they actually have CF. Those with a single defective allele are called carriers.

People with CF suffer from chronic lung problems and digestive disorders. The lungs of people with CF become covered with sticky mucus, which is hard to remove and promotes infection by bacteria. Many people with CF require frequent hospitalizations and continuous use of antibiotics, enzyme supplements and other medications. The life expectancy of people with CF used to be very short; 30 years ago the median life expectancy was about 8 years. Today, thanks to medical advances, the median life expectancy is in the mid 30s and increasing.

CF used to be known as a children’s disease, but as medical advances increase the life expectancy of people with cystic fibrosis, there are a new set of problems--- going to college, getting a job, finding health insurance, building permanent relationships--- all while keeping up the physical therapy and medications.
